Brand Manifesto

When we're having fun, the reward center of our brain is activated and it feels good.

Actually, there's no better way for babies to develop and learn, and that's why they spend so much time playing.

Nurturing this state of play means saying yes to instant adventures, to unexpected good ideas.

It means inviting more fun into every day.
You too, grown ups! Because no matter our age, wonderful things happen when we play. Like learning!

And bonding! And making memories that last a lifetime. So mom, dad, and everyone out there who's on the journey of raising amazing kids: don't be afraid to be silly. Wake up your inner child to play and learn with your little ones. To see the world like they do, as the wonderful, magical place that it is. It feels fantastic and the effects will last a lifetime.

LINGOKIDS
Welcome to the adventure of playlearning™

LINGOKIDS
The adventure of learning

What is Lingokids?

What is Lingokids?

Tech & rational description:

A 100% safe and fun-based Playlearning™ platform in English, with unique content for 2-8 year olds.

HOW SAFE?

Our applications and activities are ad-free: no crazy banners, nor evil pop ups. Every piece of content is approved by more than million families worldwide.

FUN-BASED LEARNING?

Playlearning™. Ever heard of it? We hadn't either. So we invented it. It's simple: when learning is fun, kids love to learn. We all know there's more to childhood than ABC, 123, so let's teach our kids what really matters.

TOP-QUALITY CONTENT

Everything you see at Lingokids is co-created by our board of Educational Experts and our Creative-tech team. And those amazing characters? They're developed by the creator of Pocoyo.

Which means...

We create an experience for kids to have fun while learning English, and for parents to be a part of the adventure.

OUR UNIQUE EMOTIONAL BENEFIT

Lingokids Brand

Purpose

Helping parents raise amazing kids.

Positioning

We nurture kids in exploring their natural super powers and welcome families to share this adventure of playlearning™ in English.

Brand Values

AHEAD OF TIME
We pursue relevant innovation.

LEARNING BY DOING
The way we learn for real.

FUN
Is that a smile on your face?

EMPATHY
We don't judge: we embrace.

Tone of Voice

The Key Ingredient: Simplicity

You wouldn't consider making lemonade without lemons. It wouldn't be possible. So, don't consider writing something without the key ingredient: simplicity.

If our writing is simple, then we can also be...

Simple + fun

Simple + empathetic

Simple + inspiring

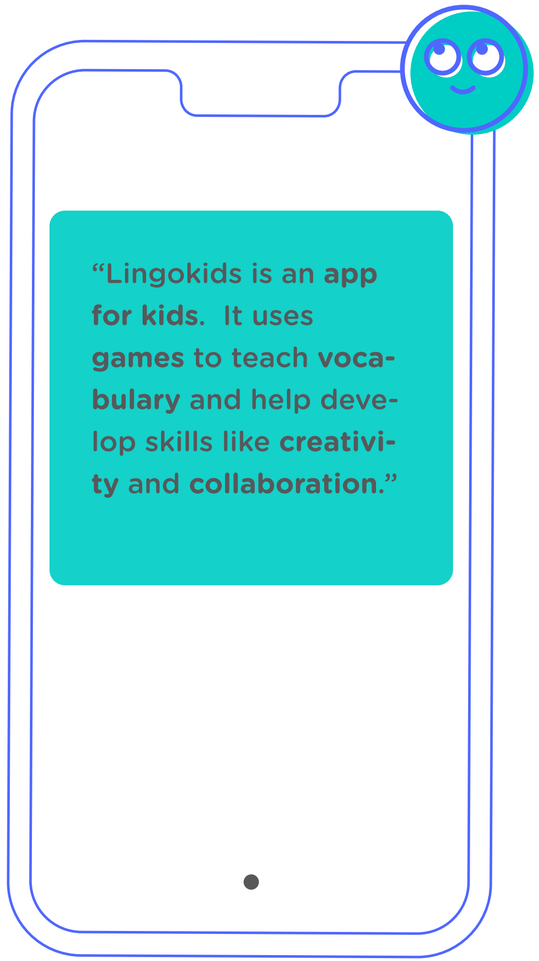
Simple + fun + empathetic

Simple + empathetic + inspiring

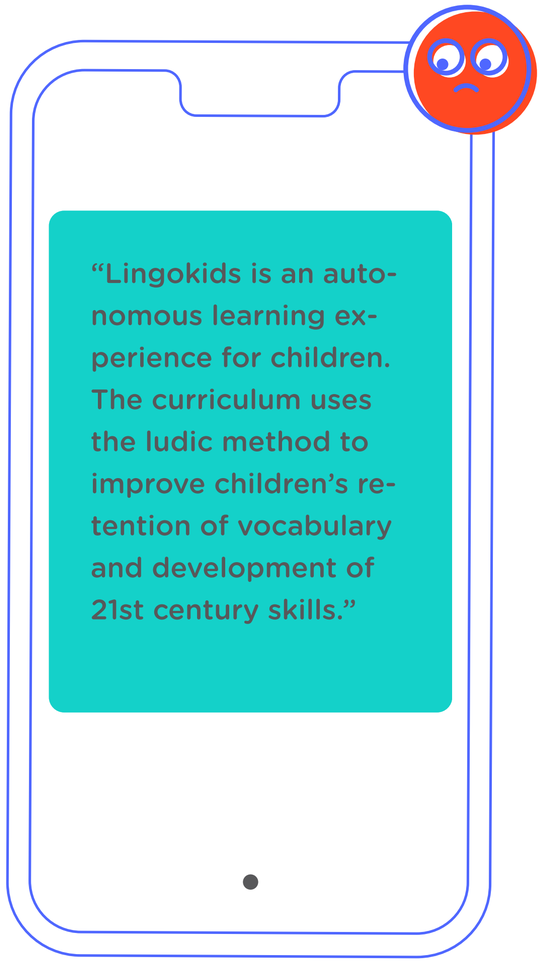
Simple + inspiring + fun

Tone of Voice

Write like this...



Not like this...



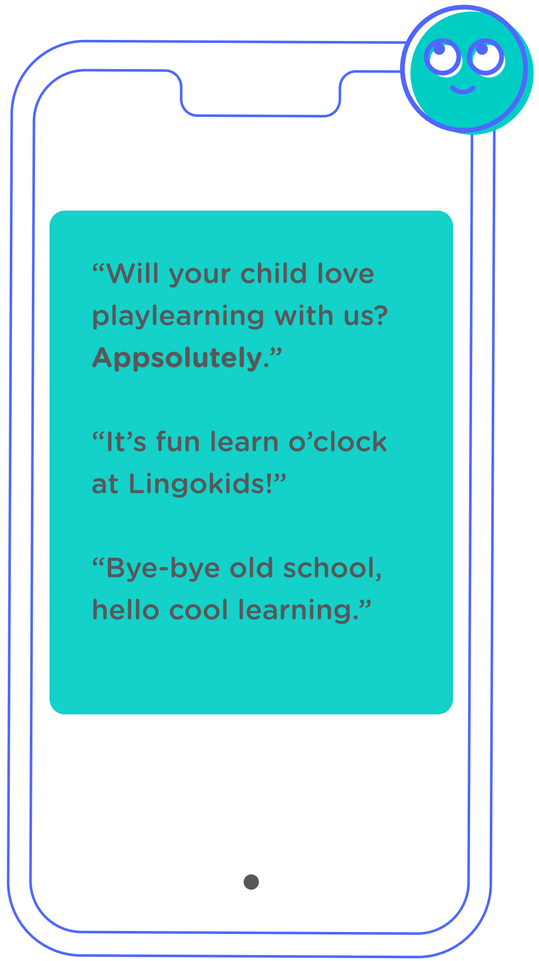
Simple, to the point

How?

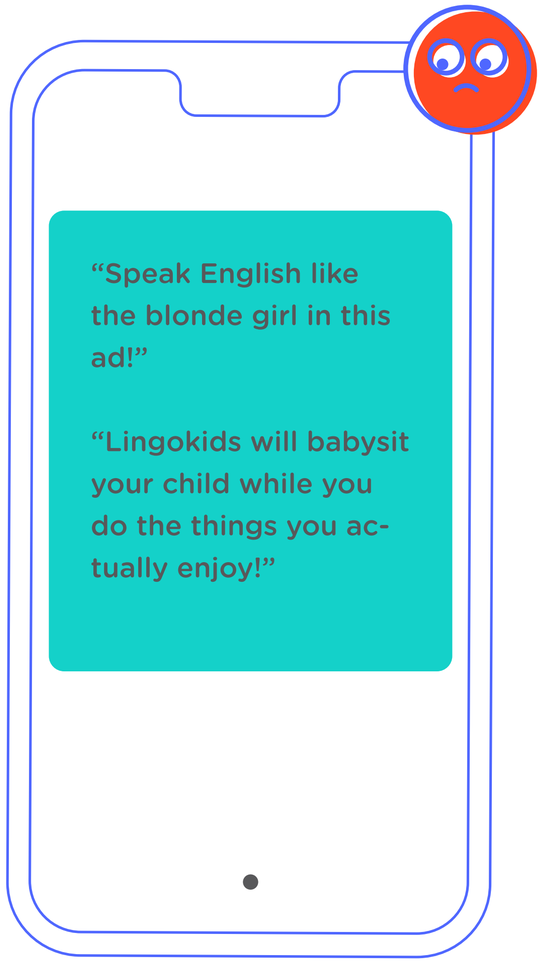
Write short sentences with easy words. Imagine you’re talking to a friend and always check your work with someone else. Ask little questions to make the text seem more conversational.

Tone of Voice

Write like this...



Not like this...



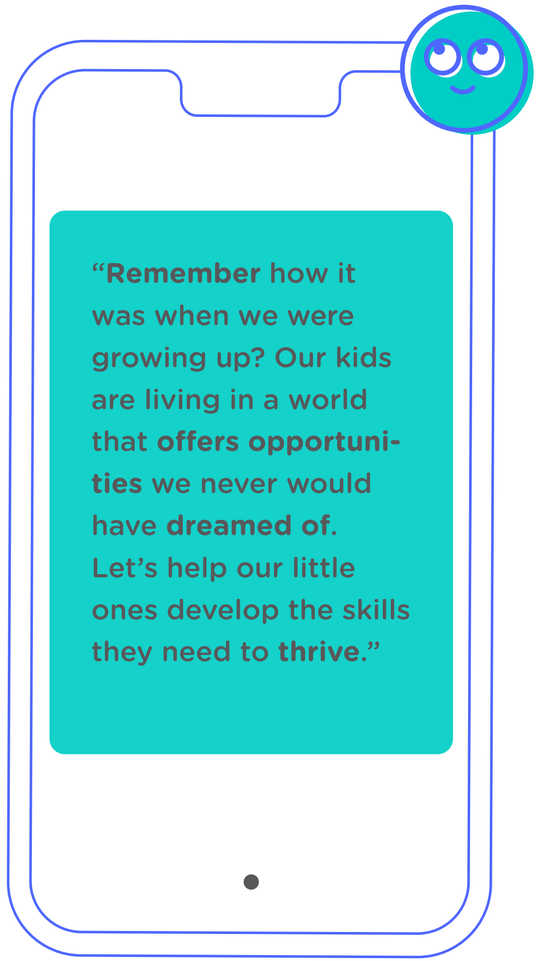
Smart fun

How?

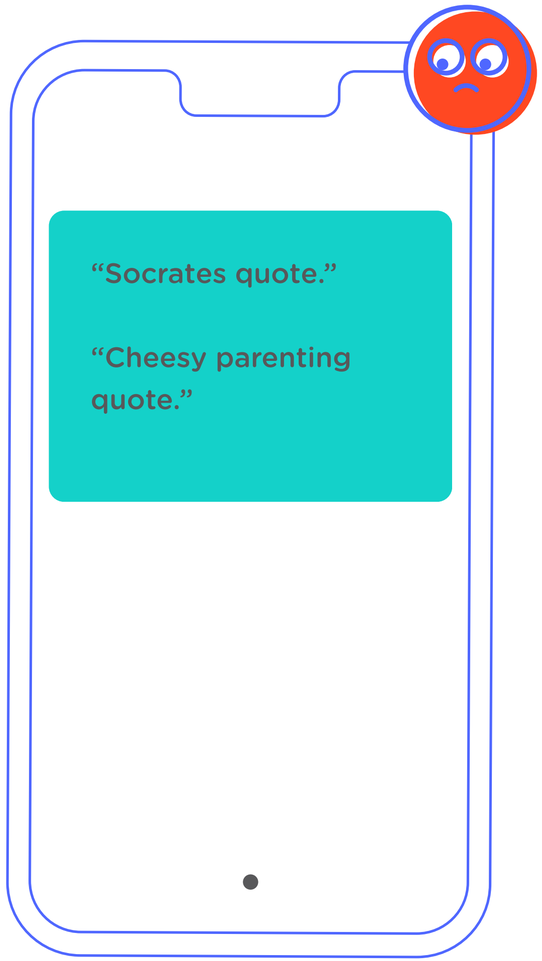
Metaphors, rhymes puns, alliteration, and occasionally irony are great techniques! Don’t make jokes in bad taste.

Tone of Voice

Write like this...



Not like this...



Inspiring

How?

Think back to your own childhood, use questions such as “remember when?” to connect to the reader’s childhood and sound like an old friend. Be hopeful and honest. Avoid cliches.

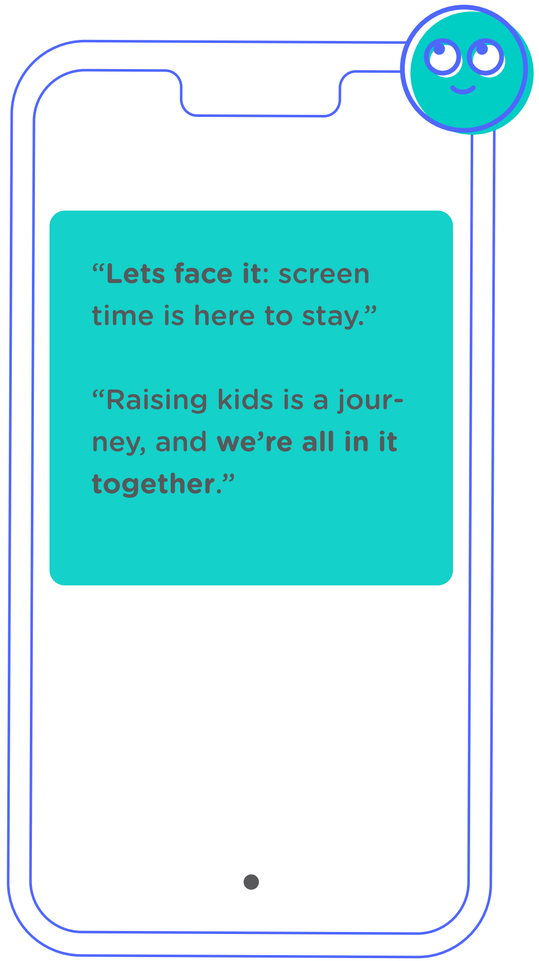
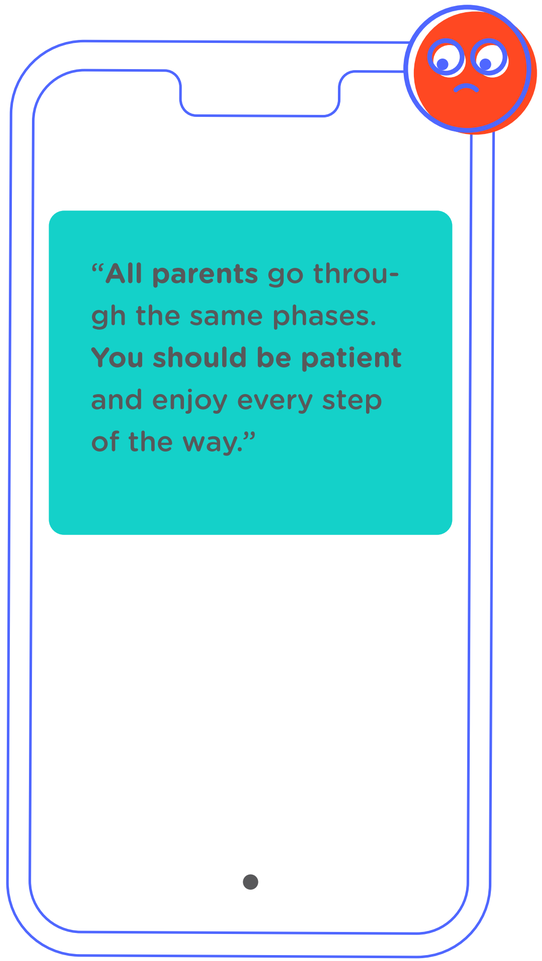
Write like this...



Not like this...



Empathetic

How?

Use the royal “we” to bring you closer to the reader. But don’t make sweeping generalizations.

Put yourself in the shoes of a parent and don’t tell them what they “should” do or think.

Ask the right questions.

Before you start writing, ask yourself: What are we to our readers?

- Friends
- Real people
- Full of helpful and fun ideas
- We ask questions

- Experts
- Perfect people
- Someone who thinks they know best
- Someone who has all the answers

Real-life examples...

- “We’re here to help.”
- “Animal therapy may work for your family.”
- “Screen time can be an opportunity to connect with your child.”
- “All children learn differently.”
- “It’s a great opportunity to bond with your child.”

- “We have the solution.”
- “Animal therapy will definitely help your child.”
- “Your whole family should participate in screen time for it to be valuable.”
- “All children should learn this way.”
- “Connect with your child by playing these games.”

How we talk about bonding...

Bonding is something that happens naturally, and when we write about bonding it must be natural.

First and foremost, we can't sell bonding.

- We create moments in which family bonding can happen
- We create opportunities in parents' busy days for them to sit beside their child and share an adventure that will make them laugh and learn together
- Lingokids helps strengthen family bonds

- It's bonding time!!!
- Go bond with your child
- Bonding screen time

Lingokids concepts and how to talk about them

Playlearn™

- Use it as a verb and always include trademark
- Think of it as a word that describes ludic learning
- Good for CTA buttons

Practical writing tips

Use the active voice - puts us closer to the reader:

- “This past month, we created new games and developed new features.”
- “We couldn’t process your payment.”

- “This past month, new games were created and new features developed.”
- “Your payment couldn’t be processed.”

Watch the “!”

- Don’t overuse them!!!! They discredit what we’re saying!

Contractions are cool, so use ‘em!
(you are → you’re, you have → you’ve)

- Write like you’re having a conversation with a friend you’ve known a long time.
- It’s written “Lingokids” - all together and with a capital L!

Writing checklist

So, you've written something great.

Now, check the following:

Is my writing 100% clear? (Mandatory)	◯ YES ◯ NO
Does it sound like I'm talking to a friend? (Mandatory)	◯ YES ◯ NO
Is Lingokids written in the right way? (Mandatory)	◯ YES ◯ NO
Is it fun?	◯ YES ◯ NO
Do I sound empathetic?	◯ YES ◯ NO
Is it inspiring?	◯ YES ◯ NO
Do I have a smile on my face? Then they probably will too!	◯ YES ◯ NO

GUIDE TO CREATE

New elements can be creat-ed anytime as long as they reinforce our brand values.

Have the stroke proportion in mind and work with very minimal shapes.

Remember we don't use sharp ends and always dou-ble check new element de-signs to make sure they don't have a double meaning.

EVERY APLICATION HAS ITS CORRECT USE CASE

LOGOTYPE

This is our official logo, which means that you'll use this one most of the time. Advertising, e-mails, video, animated intros ask for this version. Of course, you can play with the elements and use your favorite one!

LOGOTYPE + TAGLINE

For more institutional applications, standalone cases or closing messages, use our logo + tagline.

WORDMARK

Use it only in cases of co-branding (check our brand architecture session too!) or very, very small applications in which the element would be a graphic noise.

GOTHAM ROUNDED

Gg 86

These are our brand fonts. Our main and default font. If a partner project is being built internally at Lingokids, the Gotham Rounded font can be used without licensing issues.

About Gotham Rounded:
A Hoefler&Co. foundry font.

Serious. Sometimes.
Gotham Rounded is a technical letter that goes from friendly to high-tech to cheeky with ease. Gotham typeface, inspired by signs on buildings, is the lettering of engineering: the marks on precision instruments, blueprints, stencils and templates. We are modeling and improving the skills of people of the future.

Google Fonts

About Neuton:

Brian Zick

Neuton is a clean, dark, somewhat Dutch-inspired serif font which reminds you a little of Times. It has a large height, short extenders, and a compact width for better screen use, and economy of space.

The family will comprise a regular, italic, and cursive, each in five weights and with smallcaps. Two italics — one will be called “italic”, and the other “cursive” — are uncommon, but very useful. Ever tried emphasizing something already emphasized? Beyond that obvious example, there are other uses. Sometimes a text needs a different flavor or feel. While one roman can work for a variety of texts, the companion italics don’t always. In more classical or personal documents, a stiff, sober, modern and down-to-earth italic will never work. And in many essays, some of the fancier italics look ridiculous. Who said a roman needs only one companion?

WE ARE SIMPLE, NOT SIMPLISTIC

Our pictures are natural and relevant.

WE ARE TRUSTED, SO WE ARE TRUE

Our pictures show real kids and families in real everyday environments and situations.

WE ARE INCLUSIVE

Our pictures show all type of formats of families, very realistic in terms of race, same sex couples and cultural differences.

WE ARE POSITIVE AND INSPIRING

Our pictures have a clean and cheerful lightning.

OUR PHOTOS ARE: Real people, real gestures, and real environments.

We love cheerful lightning with sparks of color.

PORTRAIT

A bold color holds the background for an unique kid to express joy in their most unique way. Our characters love playing and join the clicking moment.

CASTING
Diverse and multicultural. Our kids are between 2 and 8 years old and their parents are (Millennials born in the 80s and early 90s).

ATTITUDE
They can be telling a joke, imitating an animal, dancing or whatever, as long as they always end up looking straight at the camera and smiling with their eyes.

CLOTHING
We are not super fancy, nor do we believe kids should be portrayed wearing princess dresses or ninja kimonos. Cool outfits matching our color palette will do the work.

MASK
A mask icon matching the kid's expression brings Lingokids' personality to the visual. Be sure the kid's eyes are 100% aligned with the mask.

POST-PRODUCTION
Our images are always realistic. We use a very natural light, with soft contrast between highlights and shadows.

WE NEVER USE:

• Over or underexposed images.

• Effects or filters that change the natural colors and appearance of our subject (like Duotone, B&W and blended images.)

• Low quality images

BONDING MOMENTS

A bold color holds the background for this special family moment. Our characters love playing and join the clicking moment.

CASTING
Diverse and multicultural. Our kids are between 2 and 8 years old and their parents are Millennials (born in the 80s).

ATTITUDE
In here our families are fully integrated, living a bonding moment. It could be something small such as making a funny selfie or going to a trip.

CLOTHING
We are not super fancy, nor do we believe kids should be portrayed wearing princess dresses or ninja kimonos. Cool outfits matching our color palette will will do the trick.

MINIMAL ELEMENTS
In bonding moments there's no mask. Minimalistic elements highlight the composition and put the emphasis on the family.

POST-PRODUCTION
Our images are always realistic. We use a very natural light, with soft contrast between highlights and shadows.

WE NEVER USE:

• Over or underexposed images.

• Effects or filters that change the natural colors and appearance of our subject (like Duotone, B&W and blended images.)

SUB-BRANDS

Content portals, events, activations, and even the group of characters we've created are Lingokids' sub-brands.

Designs must be derivative from Gotham Rounded, unless there's a special brand already.

In any case, they must be endorsed by Lingokids' minimal application, without creative elements above or the institutional tagline.

PARENTHOODIE by LINGOKIDS

The Lingokids brand must be at least 50% of total partner brand or sub-brands.

CO-BRANDING

We love working with companies that share and amplify our values. That's a great way to reach even wider audiences and consolidate our image among them. Whenever signing a co-branding visual, use the partner's logo followed by an ampersand and Lingokids' logo. Use the visual weight criteria to determine the right proportion of logos instead of height or length.
